THE FLEUR DE LIS

The Fleur de Lis, the emblem that the Saints wear on their helmets, is a symbol from the Court of Louis XIV. It is a french word that stands for "flower of the lilly."

The Fleur de Lis is a symbol of New Orleans which was adopted during the French occupation of Louisiana, from 1682 through 1762,

Traditionally, it has been used to represent French royalty, and in that sense it is said to signify perfection, light, and life.

Due to its three "petals," the fleur-de-lis has also been used to represent the Holy Trinity.

TOM BENSON Owner

Entering his 16th season as owner of the New Orleans Saints, Tom Benson remains one of the National Football League's most widely respected and influential leaders, Benson has built his NFL reputation through a record of accomplishments and service to the league and his community. Benson's involvement in the NFL began innocently in 1984 when he learned that the Saints were about to be sold to out-of-town interests that would move the team from New Orleans. Benson understood the economic impact and general importance of the franchise to the city. In 1985, Benson spearheaded the effort to save the franchise from leaving the city. On May 31, 1985, ownership of the Saints was officially transferred to Benson. Prior to his ownership, the Saints had not had a winning season nor had they won a divisional title. Just two seasons after taking over the ownership of the franchise. Benson's success and leadership in his previous endeavors paid dividends with the Saints. In 1987. the Saints posted a 12-3 record, finishing second in the NFC West and earning the franchise's first playoff appearance. In 1990, the Saints once again finished second in the NFC West earning its second playoff appearance. The following year, the Saints won the NFC West. During that time, Benson identified the right ingredients to bring the city its first winning team.

On December 7, 1999, Benson promised Saints fans "to take whatever steps necessary to reestablish the Saints as a winning franchise". On January 5, 2000, he took his boldest step as owner as the restructuring of the organization began immediately with the search for a new General Manager and Head Coach as he once again reiterated his pledge to "reestablish the Saints as a winning franchise."

In subsequent weeks, Benson fulfilled his promise by hiring Randy Mueller to lead the football operations, Arnold D. Fielkow to lead the business operations and Head Coach Jim Haslett to lead the team on the field. The end result has been one of the most productive and busiest offseasons in the team's history. The Saints are now widely considered one of the most improved teams in the league based on the moves Tom Benson implemented.

Above and beyond his leadership with the Saints, Benson's vision has paid dividends for the city of New Orleans. During his tenure as Saints owner, the city has hosted three of eight Super Bowls and most recently he spearheaded the efforts to secure the Super Bowl for New Orleans in the year 2002, a windfall for the city of New Orleans and the surrounding region totaling well into the hundreds of millions of dollars in economic impact.

Benson has played an important role within the NFL community. He is a member of the league's Finance committee, a member of the Audit committee, International committee and the NFL's Legislative committee.

> He was a leader in the process that expanded the league to include the Charlotte and Jacksonville franchises and he negotiated the most recent contract to extend the services of Commissioner Paul Tagliabue.

> Benson was born in New Orleans in 1927 and grew up on the edge of the city's sprawling 9th Ward. One of four children of Tom Sr. and Carmen Benson, he was educated at St. Aloysius High School (now Brother Martin) and Loyola University. As a youngster, he played football for St. Roch Park and earned spending money delivering the Times-Picayune newspaper.

In 1945, Benson served in the U.S. Navy aboard the U.S.S. South Dakota and has remained particularly close to this branch of our armed forces. He is the only enlisted man to ever serve on the Board of Trustees of the Pensacola Naval Museum, and most recently was honored with an award from the crew of the submarine U.S.S. Louisiana. Upon his return, he began to pursue his studies in business and accounting at Loyola, after which he went to work as a bookkeeper for the Cathey Chevrolet Co. in New Orleans in 1948.

By 1956, at age 29, Benson was on his way to San Antonio, Texas to manage a Chevrolet dealership as a junior partner. Six years later he took full control of the company and established the Tom Benson Motor Company. That acquisition spawned what became Benson Automotive World, a multidealership organization with 33 franchises and outlets in New Orleans, San Antonio and Corpus Christi. In 1972, Benson entered the banking business and eventually took his banking network public as Benson Financial World. Throughout the mid-90's, Benson sold the majority of his businesses in Texas and Louisiana to concentrate fully on operating the New Orleans Saints.

Appreciative of New Orleans' schools, business community and people, Benson and his brothers, Jerome and Larry, established the Free Enterprise Resource Center at Brother Martin High School in honor of their parents. He has endowed chairs in free enterprise at St. Mary's University and banking at Incarnate Word College. He served on the President's Council of Loyola University, his alma mater.

Community service to at-risk youth has been a hallmark of Benson's tenure as team owner. A few examples have included: Benson Hoops, the often emulated midnight basketball program in the inner city: Saints Flag Football in New Orleans middle schools: the Saints Venture Fund & Impact Grants program in conjunction with United Way and a Play Football program for underprivileged kids. He has guided the Saints' support of football at all levels in the region, from playgrounds through high school and college programs to the Sugar Bowl and Bayou Classic. On April 11, 2000, Benson was recognized by the Nokia Sugar Bowl Chapter of the National Football Foundation and the College Hall of Fame with the Distinguished American Award.

Benson has received several honors for his community involvement, a few of which are: American Tradition Award from the B'nai Brith Foundation of the U.S.; Rev. Jacques E. Yenni Award for Community Service from Loyola University; N.A.D.A. Northwood Institute for Outstanding Service to Education; Brotherhood Award of the National Conference of Christians and Jews; Order of St. Louis Medallion for Dedication to Church from the Archdiocese of New Orleans; 1986 Brother Martin Alumnus of the Year; Insigne Verbum Award from Incarnate Word College; Honorary Doctor of Science and Business from Cleary College; Honorary Doctor of Humane Letters from Loyola University; and Honorary Doctor of Laws from Northwood University. His continued generosity to Loyola University was made evident on October 15, 1999, when the Gregory R. Choppin Chemistry Wing was dedicated. Benson led the $2 million renovation of the project and dedication with a cash donation of $550,000 and then matched subsequent corporate donations.

Benson additionally spearheaded the effort to establish a one million dollar Jim Finks Chair at the Louisiana State University School of Medicine. With his encouragment, NFL owners and NFL Charities contributed to the endowment of the chair. The Jim Finks Chair was established to promote optimal sports performance in athletes at all levels.

Under his ownership, the New Orleans Saints have been recognized in 1998 and 1999 as one of the top-five most charitable professional organizations by the World Sports Humanitarian Hall of Fame.

Benson and his wife, former Grace Trudeau of New Orleans, share a family of five children: Renee, Donn, Susan, Rick and Mimi, plus six grandchildren.

RANDY MUELLER General Manager of Football Operations

Randy Mueller was named General Manager of Football Operations for the Saints on January 27, 2000. He oversees all aspects of the Saints football operations which includes coaching, college and professional scouting, contract negotiations, player programs, athletic training, video, equipment and all other football-related matters.

Since joining the Saints, Mueller has revitalized the organization and set in place a plan to insure the future success of the franchise. He named Jim Haslett, a successful defensive coordinator with the Pittsburgh Steelers, as Head Coach on February 3. Mueller then turned his sights on the Saints roster and bolstered the team with several acquisitions. Identifying the need for a quarterback, he signed Jeff Blake within one hour of the start of the free agent period. On offense, he landed WRs Jake Reed and Joe Horn and TE Andrew Glover. On defense, he signed LB Charlie Clemons, who was a key member of the Super Bowl champion St. Louis Rams, and DT Norman Hand from San Diego. He also resigned unrestricted free agent offensive lineman Tom Ackerman to start at the left guard spot next to perennial Pro Bowler William Roaf.

Mueller then continued his overhaul of the franchise as he presided over the Saints selections in the NFL Draft. He addressed the need for a key defensive lineman with the selection of DE Darren Howard in the second round as part of nine picks overall.

Mueller came to New Orleans from the Seattle Seahawks, where he spent the last 17 seasons, most recently as the team's Vice President/Football Operations from June 1, 1995 until his appointment with the Saints. In his tenure with the Seahawks, he managed the club's football operations including player personnel, scouting and contract negotiations. He joined the Seahawks in June, 1983, as an assistant in pro personnel and was promoted to pro personnel director in 1990.

While Mueller was with Seattle, the franchise won the AFC Western Division title in 1999 and made their first playoff appearance since 1988. During this time, he was responsible for bringing starters WR Joey Galloway, T Walter Jones, G Pete Kendall, DE Phillip Daniels, LB Anthony Simmons and CB Shawn Springs to the Seahawk lineup. Jones was a starter on the 2000 AFC Pro Bowl team, the first offensive lineman in Seattle history to be selected to the game. Springs was a member of the 1998 AFC Pro Bowl team after posting seven interceptions during the season.

Active in the free agent market, Mueller brought Pro Bowlers RB Ricky Watters and LB Chad Brown and C Kevin Glover to Seattle. The acquisition of Brown in 1997 paid dividends as he led the team in tackles in each of the past three seasons and was a Pro Bowl selection in 1998 and 1999.

Other free agents acquired by Mueller in Seattle were CB Willie Williams, who has 372 tackles and 16 interceptions in his seven-year career, G Brian Habib, who started every game for the Seahawks in the past two seasons, and S Darryl Williams, a 1997 AFC Pro Bowl choice who played in all but three games in his eight-year NFL career.

As a college quarterback, Mueller had a stellar four-year career at Linfield College in McMinnville, Oregon. As a senior, he led Linfield to the 1982 NAIA Division II National Championship. In the title game against William Jewell College, he led the Wildcats to a 33-15 victory and was selected the game's most valuable offensive player. He was also the offensive MVP in Linfield's semifinal victory over Westminister College.

While at Linfield, he earned honorable mention Little All-America honors from the Associated Press and was an all-District and all-Northwest Conference award winner.

A native of St. Maries, Idaho, Mueller was a three-sport athlete (football, basketball and base-ball) at St. Maries High School.

Mike McCarthy enters his first season as an offensive coordinator in the NFL after spending 1999 with the Green Bay Packers as their quarterbacks' coach. McCarthy brings 14 years of coaching experience to the post with an extensive background working in offenses that place a premium on the passing game and precision quarterback play.

While coaching the quarterbacks in 1999, the Packers ranked 7th overall in passing and 9th overall in total offense in the NFL with QB Brett Favre passing for 4,091 yards, his third season of 4,000 or more passing yards, one of only four quarterbacks to do so in NFL history. Under McCarthy's guise, Favre also recorded six 300-yard plus passing games, second best behind Rams QB Kurt Warner (9) in the NFL in 1999. Favre also extended his NFL record for most consecutive seasons completing 300 or more passes in 1999 (8).

Prior to working with the Packers, McCarthy worked for the Kansas City Chiefs for six years. In his last four years with the Chiefs (1995-98), he served as quarterbacks' coach. His signal callers surrendered only 52 interceptions, the lowest total in the AFC and the second lowest in the NFL overall. Using three different starting quarterbacks (Steve Bono, Elvis Grbac, and Rich Gannon); the Chiefs played to a 42-22 record during those four seasons. McCarthy's first two years with the Chiefs were spent as offensive assistant/quality control, again working with Chiefs quarterbacks, Hall of Famer Joe Montana and Dave Krieg.

Before joining the Chiefs, McCarthy coached at the University of Pittsburgh from 1989-92 under then head coach Paul Hackett. He spent his first three years coaching quarterbacks, before heading up the wide receivers in 1992. During his stay at Pittsburgh, McCarthy oversaw the progress of Alex Van Pelt, who graduated as Panthers' record-holder for passing yards for season (3,163 in 1992) and career (11,267); in passes attempted and completed for season (245 of 407 in 1992) and career (867 of 1,503), all records previously held by Dan Marino for ten years. McCarthy embarked upon his coaching career in 1987, tutoring linebackers at Fort Hays (Kan.) State.

A collegiate tight end, McCarthy was a two-time all conference selection (1985-86) at Baker University in Baldwin City, Kan. McCarthy captained the school's 1986 team, an NAIA Division II National Championship runner-up.

Born November 10, 1963 in Pittsburgh, Mike has a daughter, Alexandra.

RON ZOOK, Defensive Coordinator

Ron Zook enters his first year as a defensive coordinator in the NFL. He comes to the Saints after spending the 1999 season with the Kansas City Chiefs, where he coached the defensive backs. Prior to the 1999 season, he spent 1996-98 as the special teams coach for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

In 1999, the Chiefs led the NFL with a +21 turnover ratio and ranked 2nd in the league with 45 takeaways after posting just a +1 mark in takeaways in 1998. The Chiefs defensive backs recorded six defensive touchdowns as part of their NFL-leading nine on the year. The Chiefs defense posted 25 INTs, which included a stretch of 11 straight games with an interception for the first time since 1986, and had two or more picks in eight of the team's 16 regular season games. Chiefs cornerback James Hasty finished tied for the NFL lead in interceptions with 7 (98 yards), while his counterpart Cris Dishman finished tied for sixth in the AFC with 5 (95 yards).

During his three years with the Steelers, Zook's squad did not suffer a single blocked punt, and finished 1998 as the NFL's 3rd best kickoff coverage group, permitting just 18.9 yards per return.

While Zook was successful overseeing the Steelers' special teams, coaching defense is truly his forte, highlighted by a distinguished five year career (1991-95) at the University of Florida. As the Gators' defensive coordinator from 1991-93, Florida ranked fifth in the nation in rushing defense in 1993 and ninth in 1991, in addition to coaching linebackers in 1994, Zook served as Florida's special teams coordinator and his squad responded by recording a school-record five blocked punts, two of which were returned for TDs. In 1995, he added the titles of associate head coach and strong safeties coach, while resuming his role as Florida's defensive coordinator, helping the Gators march to a third straight SEC crown.

Prior to his stint at Florida, Zook spent 1988-90 as defensive backs coach under John Cooper at Ohio State. Prior to a one year stint as defensive coordinator/assistant head coach for Virginia Tech in 1987, he coached defensive backs from 1984-86 under Johnny Majors at Tennessee. Zook also had stints as defensive coordinator for Kansas (1983) and Cincinnati (1981-82), after coaching defensive backs for Murray State (1978-80). SAINTS DRAFT CHOICES

The first combined AFL-NFL draft was held in 1967. A player's order of selection among the players drafted is designated by a number after his position. In 1967, the expansion New Orleans Saints received first and last choices in each round and one additional choice at the end of the second, third and fourth rounds.

On February 10, 1967, the Saints selected 42 players in an expansion draft, using the same procedures as in the formation of the Atlanta Falcons in 1966. The Falcons were exempted from the expansion draft in 1967, thus leaving 14 teams from whom the Saints selected players. The procedures that were in place for the Saints were: each of the other 14 NFL teams froze 29 players from its 40-man roster, leaving 11 players available to be selected by the Saints. The Saints chose one player from those 11 remaining on each team. Then, each team froze two additional players, leaving eight on each list, from which the Saints chose two more each.

BEARS 14, SAINTS 10 October 3 at Soldier Field (66,944)

The Saims were expected to win at Chicago, but it was the Bears who came away with the victory. Head Coach Mike Ditka's second homecoming to the Windy City was spoiled as QB Shane Matthews booked up with WR Curtis Conway on a pair of touchdown passes with less than two minutes to go to spoil what would have been the Saints second win in three games, and Ditka's second win over his former team. The Saints also lost their starting quarterback just before halftime. QB Billy Joe Hobert suffered a neck sprain and cervical stinger after receiving a blow to the head by Bears' LB Ricardo McDonald on Hobert's 2-yard touchdown run. QB Billy Joe Tolliver came in to replace Hobert and was 7-of-15 for 102 yards. Hobert finished the day 8-of-13 for 76 yards. RB Ricky Williams, who was not expected to play with a hyperextended elbow, instead started the game and led all rushers with a career-high 84 rushing yards on 21 carries. CB Ashley Ambrose, signed in the offseason from Cincinnati, tied a career-high with two interceptions on the day. LB Keith Mitchell led the Saints with 11 tackles (8 solo).

The Saints lost their third consecutive game of 1999 and their third after leading going into the 4th quarter. Against the Falcons, the Saints held the edge in nearly every category, and set a new team record in the process. On the Saints first touchdown of the day, QB Billy Joe Hobert completed a 90-yard touchdown pass to WR Eddie Kennison, the longest play of either players career, and the longest touchdown pass and reception in team history. Hobert left the game shortly after that after suffering a stinger. QB Billy Joe Tolliver came on in relief and passed for another touchdown just prior to halftime. hooking up with WR Brett Bech for a 23-yard score. K Doug Brien converted just one of his three field goal attempts on the day, while the Falcons Morten Andersen converted on both of his attempts, snapping his string of four consecutive misses. TITANS 24. SAINTS 21 October 17 at Superdome (51,875)

The New Orleans Saints lost their fourth consecutive game. and the fourth in the final period, as the Titans scored 17 points in the final period to seal the victory. The Saints four losses have all come in the fourth quarter and have been by a combined 17 points. OB Billy Joe Tolliver, making his first start of 1999, passed for the seventh-best passing day in franchise history, going for 354 yards on 28-of-45 passing. Tolliver threw two touch downs and two interceptions and was not sacked in the game. CB Ashley Ambrose recorded his fourth interception as a Saint, giving him four through five games. The four picks are already the second-best season total of his career. The Saints got on the board first, when K Doug Brien connected on a 24-yard field goal. The Saints added to that lead when Tolliver found TE Scott Slutzker for a 10-vard touchdown pass. The Titans answered in the third quarter when QB Neil O'Donnell found FB Lorenzo Neal on a four-yard TD pass. Brien again connected, this time on a 42-yard attempt. The Titans then ran off 17 consecutive points, as WR Kevin Dyson was on the receiving end of O'Donnell's second touchdown pass. K Al Del Greco connected for a 19-yard field goal, CB Donald Mitchell then returned an errant Tolliver pass for a 42-vard score. The Saints mounted a late comeback, which resulted in a four-yard scoring pass from Tolliver to RB Lamar Smith. Tolliver's two-point conversion attempt to WR Brett Bech was successful, but the Saints could not convert Brien's onside kick attempt, and the Titans ran out the clock. The Saints piled up over 400 yards in total offense (409), the most since 11/22/98, when they had 401 against San Francisco.

GIANTS 31, SAINTS 3 October 24 at Giants Stadium (77,982)

RB Ricky Williams enjoyed his first 100-yard rushing day as a professional, but the Saints ultimately lost their fifth consecutive game of 1999. Williams gained 111 yards on 24 carries (4.6 avg.), but the Saints inability to convert on third down and the Giants offense which finally got on track proved too much to overcome at Giants Stadium. Through three quarters, the Saints did not convert a third down attempt in nine tries. For the game, the Saints converted just 3-of-15, while the Giants were successful on 10-of-17 attempts. In the second quarter, the Saints gained 0 yards, while the Giants scored 17 unanswered points. The Giants, who entered the game averaging close to 14 points per game, exploded for a 24-3 halftime lead, following a Kent Graham to Joe Jurevicius 53-yard hail mary as time expired in the first half. The Giants first score came when Graham ran it in from six yards out. Newly-signed K Cary Blanchard converted a 41vard FG attempt and Graham found WR Amani Toomer for a 27yard touchdown pass prior to his first half closing act. The Giants added a 12-yard run by RB Joe Montgomery to provide the final margin of victory. The Saints offense was unable to get on track all day, as QB Billy Joe Tolliver could complete only 14-of-35 attempts for 163 yards and three interceptions in the swirling Giants Stadium wind. The Saints defense sacked Graham four times on the day and intercepted a pass, but could not convert on any of the scoring opportunities.

BUCCANEERS 31, SAINTS 16 November 7 at Superdome (47,129)

The Saints dropped their seventh consecutive game of 1999, falling to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 31-16. The Saints mounted a late comeback, but ultimately fell short as they reached the midpoint of the 1999 season. K Doug Brien tied a season-high, converting three field goals, hitting from 29, 39 and 37 yards out. His 29-yard kick opened the scoring on the afternoon, providing an early 3-0 lead for the Saints. The Buccaneers answered back with a 62-yard pass from Trent Dilfer to Jacquez Green. On the Buccaneers next series, an apparent fumble return for a touchdown by the Saints was nullified as the officials reviewed and reversed the on-field call, the second replay decision that haunted the Saints during the game. On the Saints first play from scrimmage, Billy Joe Tolliver's pass in the end zone for WR Keith Poole was ruled an interception by the officials on the field. Following a replay, the call stood as called, despite replays showing the contrary. From there, the Saints battled as the Buccaneers again scored as Dilfer found TE John Davis on a I-yard TD pass, WR Darnell McDonald on a 10-yard TD pass, and FB Mike Alstott rumbled for a 25-yard scoring run to seal the victory for Tampa Bay. WR Keith Poole was on the receiving end of a 1yard TD pass from Billy Joe Tolliver to cut the lead to 24-16, but the Saints were unable to recover Brien's onside kick attempt with under a minute to play. Alstott then added his run to provide the final outcome of the game.

The Saints as well as the nation saw the first two rushing touchdowns of RB Ricky Williams' career, as he ran for a 19-vard score and a one-yard score in an ESPN nationally-televised contest Sunday night. Ricky's effort wasn't enough, however, as the Saints ultimately fell to the Jaguars, 41-23. The Saints battled the Jaguars toe-to-toe in the first half, as the teams left the field for halftime tied at 17. The Saints also posted 23 points on a Jaguars defense that entered the game tied for 1st in the NFL, and had allowed an NFL-low 79 points through their first nine games, an average of 8.8 per contest. The Jaguars defense also had not allowed a rushing touchdown in 1999, but the Saints ran for three. which included Williams' two scores and a one-yard plunge by QB Billy Joe Tolliver, Tolliver finished the game 10-14 for 159 yards and a rushing touchdown. In his last six quarters, Tolliver is 22-of-29 for 401 yards and a touchdown, coupled with three rushing touchdowns. The Saints offense also posted 21 first downs for the third consecutive week, having also accomplished that mark against the 49ers and the Buccaneers. One week after posting a franchise-low 132 yards, the Jaguars offense amassed 494 yards, including 220 receiving yards by WR Jimmy Smith, the first player to have over 200 yards receiving in a game for a Saints opponent since 12/3/89, when Richard Johnson of Detroit had

RAMS 43, SAINTS 12 November 28 at TransWorld Dome (65.864)

The Saints fell to the St. Louis Rams, 43-12, at the Trans World Dome in St. Louis. At halftime, the Saints entered the locker room down 15-12, after K Doug Brien converted on four first-half field goal attempts, from 51, 42, 45 and 35 yards. The Saints defense entered the second half having only given up 78 yards of total offense to the Rams, who entered the game ranked first in the NFL in that category, but the Rams offense began to click, and pushed St. Louis to the final margin of victory in the game. On the Saints first drive of the second half, Brien was again called on to attempt a field goal, but missed a game-tying 24-yard attempt as it hit the left upright. From there, the Rams offense began to find its mark, as QB Kurt Warner completed 10of-12 passes for 153 yards and a touchdown, and the Rams rushed for three other scores to provide the final margin of victory.

The Saints, under the direction of OB Jake Delhomme, defeated the Dallas Cowboys, 31-24, before a national TV audience on Christmas Eve. Delhomme, who had never taken a regular-season NFL snap prior to the game, completed 16-of-27 passes for 278 yards and two touchdowns. CHRONOLOGY OF UNIFORM CHANGES

The following is a catalogue of uniform changes since the Saints' inception in 1966:

1967 — Gold pants with black and white striping; black jerseys with gold numerals and white trim with white and gold piping on sleeves; white jerseys with gold numerals and black trim with black and gold piping on sleeves. Gold helmet with black Fleur-de-Lis on either side, and black and white striping down the middle.

1969 - For preseason games exclusively - Black helmets with gold Fleur-de-Lis on either side and gold and white striping down the middle. Helmets have been gold ever since.

1971 — The color of the numerals changed. Black with gold trim on white jerseys and white with gold trim on black ierseys.

1975 — Pants were changed from gold to white with black and gold striping.

1976 - Black pants were introduced to be worn worn with white jerseys. Gold and white striping down the sides. Same white pants worn with the black jerseys. The facemask changed from grey

1983 — Numbers changed to "San Diego-style" numerals, Thin border around the number with no direct contact between the number and the border. The second change was from socks with black and gold piping to solid black.

1986 — Gold pants with wide solid black stripes were initiated. The state Fleur-de-Lis patch appears on either side of the pants. The jersey was redesigned with TV numbers on the shoulders, and the state Fleur-de-Lis on either sleeve. The stripes on the sleeves were eliminated. The socks feature a wide gold stripe on a black background 1991 — 25th anniversary patches were worn on the left shoulder.

1994 - For three games (3 through 5), the Saints wore their 1967 style uniforms for their "throwbacks games", a league-wide program commemorating the NFL's 75th Anniversary.

1996 — Traditional Fleur-de-Lis replaces state logo on jerseys and pants. Player name and numbers changed from screen-on type to "tackle twill" style, made of cloth and sewed onto jersey. Numbers changed to gold with black outline on white jerseys and gold with a white outline on black jerseys. Stockings changed from thick gold and black stripe over white to solid black over white.

1999 — On the white road jerseys, the numbers and lettering changed to black with gold outline, and pants changed from gold with black stripe to black with a gold stripe to complete the road uni-

2000- The only change to the road uniform will be the replacement of the black with gold stripe pants to the gold with black stripe pants. The white road jersey will remain the same with the numbers and lettering in black with gold trim.

2000 INSTANT REPLAY SYSTEM

The system begins with the replay booth receiving a "live" feed from the network television control truck covering the game.

The "technician" in front of the live-feed monitor cues up the live play by pressing the "make play" button on his console as the ball is snapped. That automatically puts the play on a "touch-screen monitor" positioned in front of the replay assistant. When a replay comes up from the truck, the technician presses a "make replay" button and that automatically pops up on the touch-screen monitor. The monitor can accommodate six replay angles of a single play.

The "replay assistant" is positioned in front of the touch-screen monitor. This person decides which replays will be relayed to the field monitor for review by the referee after a coach's challenge is issued, and whether an official's time-out will be called for a play review in the final two minutes of each half and overtime.

The "video operator," at the instruction of the replay assistant, will tap the touch-screen monitor (similar to a bank's automatic teller machine that prompts commands by the tapping of its screen) to transfer one of the replays to the booth's third monitor that is positioned between him and the replay assistant. The video operator can control the speed of the playback on this monitor by the turn of a dial. This is the monitor on which the replay assistant will view all replays. The video on this monitor is what the referee on the field will see.

The "communicator" is the replay booth's "eyes to the field." While the technician, replay assistant and video operator are doing their jobs, the communicator, stationed in back of the other three, is watching the field. He will advise the replay assistant - who is busy viewing the monitor — that "they're in the huddle," "they're on the line" and "the ball is snapped" so the replay assistant will know that the next play has started, negating the possibility of a replay. He will also report to the replay assistant if an official ruling (e.g. holding, illegal procedure, etc.) has been made on the field following a play that might eliminate the need for a replay.

The communicator also is the timer of the 90 seconds allocated to the referee to make a decision on a replay. Once 90 seconds are reached, the communicator will hit a red button on the console in front of the replay assistant that will automatically shut off the field-level monitor, signaling to the referee that the 90 seconds has expired and the review is over. The referee must then announce his decision.

If needed, the communicator will also explain a referee's ruling to the TV truck and to the teams' public relations directors in the press box for dissemination to the media.

A "buzzer system" will be utilized to signal the call for a replay. Before the final two minutes, the head coach will buzz the referee and replay booth that he challenges a play and wants a review. Within the final two minutes, the booth will buzz the referee, calling for a replay. The head coaches will wear a belt pack containing a buzzer. When pressed, the buzzer will simultaneously signal the referee, umpire and replay booth that a replay is being requested.

There will be three replay monitors at field level in open-air stadiums. Two will be positioned at opposite 20yard lines near the sideline wall. A third will be in a runway, for use if there is inclement weather. Two monitors will be used in domed stadiums.

As the referee approaches the monitor, his first replay will await him. His 90 seconds for a decision begins when he puts on the headphones that put him in contact with the replay booth.

2000 RULES OF REPLAY

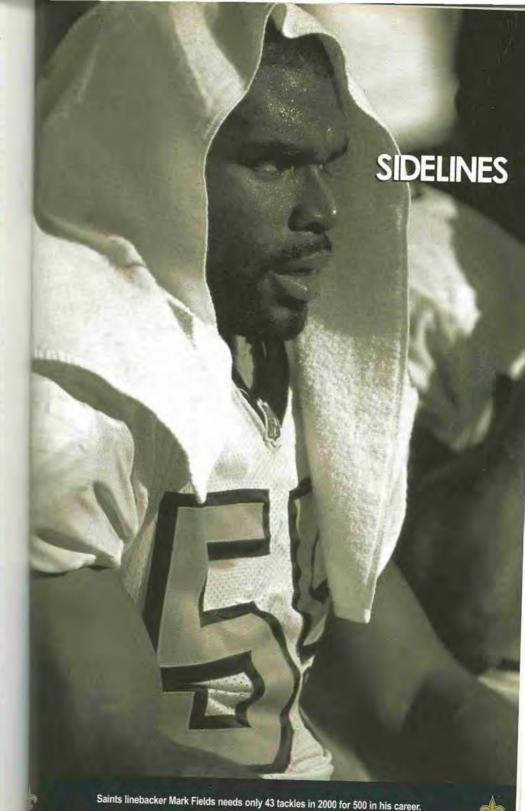

COACHES CHALLENGE — Outside the final two minutes of each half, each team will be permitted two challenges per game that will initiate referee reviews. Each challenge will cost a team a time-out. If a challenge is upheld, the time-out will be restored, but the challenge will not. No challenges will be recognized from a team that has exhausted its time-outs.

FINAL TWO MINUTES OF EACH HALF — After the two-minute warning of each half, and throughout any overtime period, any referee review will be initiated by the replay assistant in the replay booth in the press box. He can initiate as many review requests as he thinks necessary, no matter how many time-outs the teams may have. No time-out will be charged for a review initiated from the replay booth.

REFEREE REVIEW — All replay reviews will be conducted by the referee on a field-level monitor after consultation with the other covering officials on the play. A decision will be reversed only when the referee has indisputable visual evidence that the call should be changed. The referee cannot initiate a replay in any instance.

TIME LIMIT — Reviews will be a maximum of 90 seconds, timed from when the referee puts on the head phones to the replay booth.

REVIEWABLE PLAYS — The instant replay system will cover a variety of plays in three main areas - 1) sideline, goal line, end zone, and end-line plays; 2) passing plays; and 3) other detectable infractions, such as a runner ruled down not by defensive contact, and the number of players on the field.

ATC — Albletic Trainer Certified; athletic trainers with this designation have passed the certification exam administered by the NATA.

A-C Joint — Acromicolavicular joint; joint of the shoulder where acromion process (of the scapula) and the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shoulder separations occur at this point.

Achilles Tendon — The tendon at the back of the heel connecting the calf muscle to the heel bone.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) - Ligament of knee attaching to anterior tibial plateau and posterior medial aspect of femoral condyle. It provides stability in keeping the lower leg from coming forward.

Anti-inflammatory - Any agent which prevents inflammation (such as aspirin or ibuprofen).

Arthroscope - An instrument used for visualization of the interior of a joint cavity; sometimes referred to as "scope."

Arthroscopy - Examination of the internal structures of a joint by means of surgical viewing apparatus (arthroscope) inserted into the joint.

Bone Scan - "Radionuclide Imaging," which is useful to demonstrate stress fractures not evident on routine x-

Burner - Common term for brachial plexus trauma in the neck. Usually results in burning or fingling sensation into the shoulder or arm when the neck is forced beyond the normal range of motion.

CT Scan (Computerized Tomography) — Use of computed radiographic equipment to get a cross sectional image of an anatomical area. Is best to visualize bony structures. It is also referred to as a CAT scan.

Chondral Fracture - Fracture to the chondral (cartilaginous) surfaces of bone.

Chondromalacia - A roughening of the cartilage surface. Best known for the roughening of the underside of Concussion — A trauma-related injury to the head usually resulting in excessive forces being rapidly applied to the head and/or cervical spine. This injury is usually due to a blow to the head from the ground or opposing player. This injury is graded as mild, moderate or severe depending on severity of changes of consciousness, memory and/or equilibrium.

Degenerative Joint Disease — Changes in the joint surfaces as a result of repetitive trauma.

Dehydration — Condition resulting from excessive loss of body fluid, where fluid output exceeds fluid Intake. Symptoms usually arise when fluid loss is in excess of 2 percent of the person's body weight.

Edema — Accumulation of fluid in organs and tissues of the body (swelling).

Electrolyte Drink — Fluid for replacing electrolytes, such as Galorade™ Thirst Quencher.

EMG - Electromyogram test to check nerve function.

Fracture - Breach in continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick, incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress or transverse.

Groin - The upper and inner thigh where the adductor muscles originate that are responsible for moving the leg in an inward or adduction direction.

Hamstring — Muscle running from the buttocks to behind the knee. Often injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of muscle flexibility. Muscle responsible for flexing the knee joint.

Heat Stroke - Condition of rapidly rising internal body temperature that overwhelms the nervous system's mechanisms for release of heat.

Heat Exhaustion — Mild form of shock resulting from Inadequate replacement of fluids lost through sweating and uncontrolled increase in body core temperature.

Heat Cramps — Painful muscle spasms of arms or legs, likely caused by depletion of fluids and electrolytes.

High "Interosseous" Ankle Sprain - An injury to the Interosseous membrane, which is the fibrous tissue that stabilizes the two bones of the shin (tibia and fibula). This injury is usually due to excessive ankle rotation along with accompanied trauma to the ligamentous structures of the ankle joint.

Interosseous Membrane — Uniting membrane between the tibia and fibula that forms a collagenous fibrous tissue. It has two functions: to serve as an origin for many of the muscles of the lower leg, and to transmit stress from the tibia to the fibula.

Lateral Collateral Ligament (LCL) — Ligament of knee attaching lateral femoral condyle to the fibula head. It provides lateral stability to the knee.

Ligament — Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) — Provides highly detailed pictures of the body's interior, using magnetic fields. It is especially useful in athletic injuries to visualize soft fissues such as ligments and tendons.

Medial Collateral Ligament (MCL) — Ligament of knee attaching to medial femoral condyle and to medial tibia. It provides medial stability to the knee.

Meniscus — Crescent-shaped cartilage of the knee located between the femur and the tibia bones.

Plantar Fascia — The tight band of muscle and connective tissue beneath the arch of the foot.

PNF (Proprioceptive Neuromuscular Facilitation) — An approach to therapeutic exercise based on the principles of functional human anatomy and neurophysiology.

Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL) — Ligament of the knee attaching to posterior tibial plateau and anterior lateral aspect of femoral condyle. It provides stability in keeping the lower leg from going backward.

Progressive Resistance Exercise (PRE) — An approach to exercise whereby the load or resistance to the muscle is applied by some mechanical means and is quantatively and progessively increased over time. Quadriceps (Quads) — The four powerful muscles in the front of the thigh, responsible for extending the knee joint.

Rotator Cuff — Comprised of four muscles in the shoulder area: supraspinatus, infraspinatus, teres minor and subscapularis. Often irritated by overuse.

S-C Joint — Sternoclavicular joint; articulation between the sternum and the clavicle.

Sciatic Nerve — Largest nerve in body located in back of leg which controls most of its function.

Sciatica — Irritation of the sciatic nerve, resulting in pain or tingling running down the inside of the leg.

Shin Splint — A catch-all syndrome describing pain either in the front of the lower leg or on the inner aspect of Shoulder Separation — Refers to a sprain of the A-C joint where the tip of the clavicle may be elevated from its normal position of attachment on the acromion process.

Sprain — A joint injury. A violent, twisting, stretching, pulling or tearing of a ligament.

1st Degree - A stretching but no tear of a ligament. Athlete may be able to continue to play or usually return to play in a few days.

2nd Degree — A partial tear of a ligament. Bracing may be required. Athlete will usually miss one to 3rd Degree — A complete tear of a ligament. Depending on ligament involved, bracing or even surgery may be required. Athlete is usually out from three weeks up to 12 months depending on course of treatment.

Stinger — Common term for brachial plexus trauma in the neck.

Strain — A muscle injury. The stretching, pulling or twisting of a muscle or tendon.

1st Degree — A stretching but no tear of a muscle or tendon. Athlete may be able to continue to play or usually return to play in a few days.

2nd Degree — A partial tear of a muscle or tendor. Athlete will usually miss one to four weeks, 3rd Degree — A complete tear of a muscle or tendon. Depending upon muscle or tendon involved, surgery may be required. Athlete is usually out from six weeks up to six months.

Stress X-Ray — A continual x-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed to its maximum to see if the ligaments are intact.

Stress Fracture — A hair-line type of break in bone caused by overuse.

Stretching — Any therapeutic maneuver designed to lengthen (elongate) pathologically shortened soft-tissue structures and thereby increase range of motion.

Subluxation — Partial dislocation of a joint. Term usually implies that joint can return to normal position without formal reduction.

Tendinitis - Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, often caused by chronic overuse and/or sudden injury.

Turf Toe — Sprain of the metatarsophalangeal (MTP) joint of the great toe.

NEW ORLEANS SAINTS FACILITY

On April 15, 1996, a first in New Orleans Saints history occurred when the entire organization moved into the club's new facility, located at 5800 Airline Drive in Metairie. It marked the first time ever that Saints coaches, players and staff have been housed under one roof.

The two story, 65,000 square foot facility, which is situated on a 19.2 acre tract, contains three practice fields. Two, which are laid out symmetrically, are planted with Bermuda grass and are surrounded by an asphalt, half-mile running track. The third field is made up of 70 yards of artificial turf and 50 yards of grass. Also outside is a full-length basketball court.

The first floor is approximately 43,000 square feet, and serves primarily the needs of the players. It also consists of a reception area, ticket office, media workroom and storage areas.

The lockerroom, which is completely carpeted, contains 75 lockers, each 44 inches wide. Adjacent to the lockeroom are a players lounge and shower area that includes a built-in whirlpool and cold dip pool, sauna room and steam room. The training room consists of nine treatment tables, a three-man taping station, three therapeutic whirlpools, one Hydro Track and Biodex rehabilitation equipment. The equipment room, which includes a loading dock making it accessible for 18-wheeler tractor trailers, is 3,600 square feet. The weight room, also fully carpeted, is 4,050 square feet.

A 1,700 square foot auditorium which sits on the first floor, can seat 110 players for team meetings, and can be divided into two rooms. On either side of the auditorium, are eight smaller team meeting rooms.

Located on the second story are offices for coaches, player personnel, the video department and administrative staff. It has the capacity for an additional 23,000 square feet.
